Lloyd George Announces in House of Commons That Former Kaiser
Must Stand Trial.

DOUBT ABOUT EXTRADITION

Belief Expressed in Official Circles
Will Turn Him Over When Allies Make Demand.

(By United Press.)

London, July 3.—William Hohenzollern, former kaiser of the German empire, will soon be tried in London by an allied tribunal. Premier Lloyd George announced in the house of commons this afternoon. This official announcement was regarded as removing all doubt as to the allies' intention to bring the "war lord to justice."

The attitude of the Dutch government regarding extradition of Wilhelm is now cloudy. Statements by various officials in Holland have shown the inclination against turning him over to any other than the German government. But the belief has been expressed in official circles at The Hague that when the allies demand is actually presented, the Dutch will accept it through fear of pressure of the allies, if for no other reason.

An unofficial dispatch reported today that unusual activities were observed at Amerongen castle, where the former kaiser is at present interned. This was interpreted as indicating his intention to move, possibly to another point in Holland.

Germany is divided over trial for Wilhelm. The military caste bitterly opposes it and the radicals openly advocate that he be tried by a German socialistic tribunal.

Lloyd George also stated that other high officials who committed any crimes will be tried.

"The peace terms are in many respects terrible," declared Lloyd George, "but are aimed for those who committed the terrible crimes." The premier declared that Germany is now unable to disturb the peace. He said the limit of reparation is Germany's ability to pay.

The restoration of 1,500,000 miles of German colonies is impossible, he said, because of the former ill treatment of the nations by Germany.

Lloyd George was given a remarkable ovation at the beginning

FIRST 1919 WHEAT IS THRESHED IN COUNTY

Grain From Frank Offutt's Farm,
Delivered at Arlington, Grades
No. 2, Bringing $2.08.

MOST OF IT GOOD QUALITY

The first wheat was threshed in Rush county today, at least a week before the time it was expected any would be threshed here.

The wheat came from Frank Offutt's farm in Posey township and was delivered to Hutchinson's elevator in Arlington. The wheat graded No. 2, weighed 58 to 59 pounds to the bushel and tested from 11 1/2 to 12 per cent moisture. The price paid for the wheat was $2.08 a bushel, which is the price fixed for grading No. 2.

It was stated this afternoon that the wheat was not turning out as well as expected, considering the size of the stalks. There were reported to be some shrunken grains but for the most part it was of good quality. It was impossible to determine this afternoon how much the crop on Offutt's farm would average because only a few loads had been delivered to the elevator.

VIOLATORS TO GET CHANCE Indiana State Library

Auto Owners Who Do Not Obey
Lights Law Will Escape First Time

Automobile owners who violate the state auto lights law for the first time will be given another chance, according to the police, who have been instructed by Mayor Irvin to leave a notice in the machine when one is found which is not displaying the proper lights. The mayor has announced that tail lights shall be burning at all times, one-half hour after sunset, no matter where the machine is parked, and that headlights need not be lighted if the machine is parked on the right side of the street. Enforcement will begin July 10, the mayor announced yesterday.

DIRIGIBLE MORE THAN HALF ACROSS

Atlantic Flight at 5 a. m.,
New York Time

WILL REACH LAND TOMORROW

Giant Airship is Flying in Sunshine
Above Clouds at Altitude of
2,000 Feet

(By United Press.)

London, July 3.—The British dirigible R-34 was nearly 1,500 miles out on her trans-Atlantic flight at 9 a. m. Greenwich time, 5 a. m. New York time today, the air ministry announced this afternoon.

The airship still continued her flight due westward and was reported as still flying above the fog.

General Seely, announced in the house of commons this afternoon that the R-34 was 325 miles east of St. John, Newfoundland, at six o'clock this morning, 1 a. m. New York time.

Cape Race, Newfoundland, July 3.—The big star liner Megantic—reported today that at 6 a. m., Greenwich time, 2 a. m. New York time, she picked up a wireless from the R-34 giving the dirigible's position at approximately 1,000 miles west of East Fortune, Scotland.

The R-34, the message said, was flying in the sunshine above the clouds at an altitude of 2,000 feet.

London, July 3.—The R-34, plowing through fog banks in mid-Atlantic was making slower time than was anticipated when the last wireless reports were received from her, but was expected to reach America sometime tomorrow.

When the big dirigible left East Fortune, yesterday morning, she maintained a speed of more than 40 miles an hour until she plunged into the fog off the west coast of Ireland. Then her progress was retarded until she arose above the clouds. The latest message showed her making about 35 miles an hour and maintaining an altitude of 2,000 feet. Asked by the East Fortune wireless station if he was receiving sufficient weather reports, Major Scott, commander, replied:

"Thanks we are in touch with Ponta Delgado, St. John and Clifden, Ireland."

Two British warships stationed about one-half way across to render the dirigible any needed aid, had not reported any communication from her early today.

Various steamers reported picking up a message saying the dirigible was making good time and expected to land on Long Island tomorrow

Elva Jones and Marietta Wolf, Each
Seek Decrees of Separation
From Their Husbands

CRUEL, INHUMAN TREATMENT

Mrs. Wolf Wants Custody of Her
Child and Demands Support
Money From Donald Wolf

Declaring that their husbands were cruel and resorted to inhuman treatment, two divorce cases were filed late yesterday afternoon in the circuit court, Chauncey Duncan representing the defendant in both cases.

Elva Jones filed suit against John R. Jones, declaring in the complaint that he was high tempered, ill natured, disagreeable and of an extremely jealous disposition, without cause or occasion, and that he called her vile names and at one time struck and kicked her violently, and slapped her in the face.

Mrs. Jones states that they were married August 16, 1913 and separated December 24, 1918, one child Newell, age five being born. Mrs. Jones did not ask for the support of the child, as it is now being cared for by its father, who resides in LaPorte County, and as the complaint states, she is now employed in a printing office in Rushville, and is not able financially to support the child.

Marietta Wolf, being under 21, filed suit for divorce by her next friend her father, E. A. Ball, against her husband, Donald Wolf. She states that they were married June 29, 1918 and separated September 7, 1918, and that there was one child born to them.

Mrs. Wolf alleges that he cursed her incessantly, calling her vile and infamous names, and was cruel. That he refused to go to house-keeping and provide a good home, although he was amply able to do so. She also alleges that he stayed

HOW UNITED STATES IS BOUND BY PACT

France Immediately in Case of Unprovoked Attack.

The texts of the agreements between France and the United States and France and Great Britain were given out by the foreign office late last night.

The agreement with the United States cites articles of the peace treaty prohibiting Germany from fortifying either the right or left bank of the Rhine or assembling forces within thirty miles east of the Rhine and provides, in case these provision do not assure France proper security and protection, that the United States shall be bound to come immediately to the aid of France if any unprovoked act of aggression is made against her by Germany.

It is provided that the treaties shall be submitted to the council of the league of nations which decide whether to recognize them as engagements in conformity with the league covenant, and it is also provided that the respective treaty shall be submitted to the United States senate and the French parliament for approval.

HOG RAISERS HERE SET TWO RECORDS

George Reeves Tops Market and W.
A. Alexander Realizes Most on One Shipment.

HIGHEST PRICE IN HISTORY

Mr. Reeves Says His 65 Hogs Bringin $22.25 Shows That Good Breeding Pays.

Rush county hog raisers set two records in Indianapolis yesterday, when hogs sold for the highest price ever paid in Indianapolis.

George Reeves topped the record market with sixty-five head which sold for $22.25 a hundred, being 25 cents over the top on other hogs yesterday.

W. A. Alexander sold sixty-one head for $4,287.80, the largest sum ever realized on a single load on the Indianapolis market.

George Reeves declared today that the record established by his shipment yesterday plainly revealed that good breeding pays because everyone of the sixty-five head was a thoroughbred and eligible to record as such.

The extreme top for all other hogs sold, except Mr. Reeves, was $22.10 and the majority of the shipments topped the market at $22, which represented an increase of thirty-five cents over the day before and 75 cents since last Thursday.

The shipment of sixty-five head, for which Mr. Reeves received a check for $3,470.75 from Powell Brothers, commission firm, weighed 16,016 pounds, an average of 247 pounds a head.

There were sixty-one head in the shipment sold by Mr. Alexander, averaging 319 pounds and selling for $70.29 each.

The records won by the local stock raisers further establishes Rush county as the greatest hog-producing county in the United States and will extend its reputation as the home of good live stock.

Prices yesterday were not only the

OLD W.M. PROMISES TO MAKE IT GOOD ONE

Fourth May be Enjoyed in Sweltering Sun Because Weather Will Continue Hot

PICNICS CHIEF DIVERSION

The old weather man promises some nice weather for the Fourth of July, and announced that it would be fair tonight and continued warmer tomorrow. While there is not much going on here, nevertheless Rushville people will spend the day in some of the neighboring places where entertainments are being advertised.

With weather like it has been, it makes the Fourth seem all the more real, and a picnic with scorching weather is promised so that the bathers and fishers may enjoy the sweltering sun. In years past a July 4th picnic was not complete unless a case of "wet goods" and a cake of ice was along, but this year, the thirst will have to be quenched with water, or some of the "kickless beer."

Many Rushville people are planning on going to Flat Rock cave and many to McCoy Lake, near Greensburg, and old Flatrock in this vicinity will be the picnic grounds for many.

Practically all business will be suspended here tomorrow, and only groceries and meat shops will remain open up until noon, and drug stores will observe Sunday hours. No mail deliveries will be made and the postoffice will be closed all day. The banks remain closed all day.

LIEUT. COL. JONES IS HERE

Former Rushville Physician on Ten Days Leave of Absence

Lieut. Col. George B. Jones, former Rushville physician, is here on ten day leave of absence while on the way from New York, where he recently landed after more than a year's service overseas, to Camp Funston, Kansas. Lieut. Col. Jones and Lieut. Col. Osborne, formerly a Glenwood physician, are the only Rush county men to have reached this rank during their service in the army. Lieut. Col. Jones has been in the army since 1898 when he enlisted for the Spanish-American war. He was decorated before leaving for the States for services rendered in caring for the wounded.

NOTICES SENT TO PROPERTY OWNERS

They Are Asked to Visit Board of Review Next Wednesday If They Have Any Complaints.

NO FIGURES IN THE NOTICES

Board Believes Majority in Rushville
Know What New Values Are
Because of Daily Publication.

Notices were being mailed today to owners of real estate and improvements in Rushville city, notifying them that changes had been made in their assessments, and that if they had any complaint to make, they should appear before the county board of review next Wednesday, July 9, when the last session of the board will be held.

The notices do not state the new valuation fixed on the real estate and improvements which have been re-assessed by the county board in an effort to increase and equalize the valuations in the city. The board decided that if owners whose appraisements have been changed, had not seen the new valuations, which have appeared daily in the Daily Republican, they could call on the board and find out the amount of the assessment. Those who have seen their new appraisements in the Republican, if they have any complaints to make, may call on the board next Wednesday, which will be their last opportunity.

A few property owners, having noted the changes made by the publication in the Republican, have already appeared before the board, but the number of complaints has been remarkably small, considering the fact that the valuation of every piece of real estate and all improvements in the city of Rushville have or will be changed.

The board will have to complete the reassessment of Rushville early next week in order to finish the work of appraising the corporations. Yesterday all the property between Harrison and Jackson streets were finished and the board began working north this morning between Jackson and Sexton streets.

The total valuation of property appraised yesterday amounted to $222,800.

Valuations from Fifth to Eighth between Harrison and Jackson Streets were fixed as follows:

Lincoln Giffin, $4,100; Blanche Riley, $2,500; Jennie Berkley, $900; Sarah Adams, $700; Martha Weeks, $1,800; Nancy Alexander, et al., $900; Henry Schattner, $1,100; Edward Haywood, $2,000; Arnold Orme, $1,600; Oliver and Nellie O'Brien, $1,500; Glen Foster, $3,000; John B. Pusey, $2,000; Emma Smith, $1,600; W. A. Green, $1,800; Hettie Retherford, $2,400; Michael Scanlan, $3,500; Will L. Mulno, $3,100; Craig and Gregg, $2,800; Eliza Ann Newhouse, $3,000; J. T. Paxton, $3,000; Charley Boys, $3,000.

FRED LIGHTFOOT MAY LAND PLUM

Farmer of Near Raleigh Said to be Choice of Goodrich for Place on Live Stock Commission

TO REWARD LOCAL EFFORTS

Expected Member Would Come
From Here, But Generally Thought
He Would be Republican

There is a strong probability that Fred Lightfoot of near Raleigh will be appointed one of the democratic members of the bi-partisan live stock sanitary commission, created by an act of the last legislature, which takes the place of the state board of veterinary medical examiners.

It is presumed that the appointment of the Rush county live stock man will be the reward for local men who worked so hard to put the bill creating the commission, through the general assembly. Although it was hinted before the measure was ever passed, that a member of the commission would come from Rush county, it was generally thought that the Rush county man would be a republican.

Live stock men here worked industriously for the passage of the bill and made a special effort to have it become a law in its original form. As it was introduced, the bill provided for abolishing the state stallion enrollment board, which is now in charge of the Purdue university authorities, and vesting the powers of the board in the live stock commission. They failed in this, however, because Purdue was too strong in the legislature to allow a plum like the stallion enrollment board to be taken away from it.

According to the Indianapolis Star, it is likely that Governor Goodrich will appoint Dr. Haskill Lett of Seymour as the Republican veterinarian on the commission and John L. Kixmiller of Logansport as the Democratic veterinarian. Dr. Haskill is at present assistant state veterinarian. A number of men actively engaged in the live stock industry are mentioned for the fourth place on the commission. Among these are A. M. Brown of Winchester, secretary of the National Poland China Breeders Association, and Thomas Grant of Lake County, both Republicans. As Mr. Grant was a member of the 1919 Legislature it is not likely that he will be appointed, although membership on the commission is not re-

SUN IGNITES STRAW CAUSING A BARN FIRE

Property Belonging to Frank Windeler Destroyed and Phone Cable Burned in Two.

NEW SALEM LINE IS PUT OUT

Fire, supposedly caused by the heat of the sun shining through a glass window and igniting some straw, soon destroyed a barn owned by Frank Windeler, back of his home in Circleville, about two-thirty this afternoon. The barn contained crates and some straw, and glass valued at $125. The amount of insurance carried was only $175 and only partially covers the loss.

The Rushville Telephone company also suffered a loss as the main line cable, connecting over 100 phones, was burnt in two, and communication along the New Salem pike and New Salem will be off until repairs can be made. The chemical truck from the fire station was called and was in readiness in case the fire spread.

County Agent Detrick Says New Batch of Army Worms May be Expected in That Time.

DEVELOPING INTO THE MOTH

If Rush County is Annoyed, it Will be Because They are Carried Here by Winds

The second brood of army worms will appear in about two weeks, said County Agent Detrick today, but it is not likely that any considerable damage will be done by this brood.

now developing into the moth which will lay eggs at once. In about 8 to 10 days the eggs will hatch into the larva or worm stage and begin to feed.

The moths are strong fliers and are usually carried by the winds for many miles before they begin to deposit their eggs. Therefore, if Rush County is annoyed by the fall brood, it will be because the moths have been carried here by the winds from some other locality.

Three enemies were found to be working on the worms here, and as a result a large percent of the worms were destroyed before going into the resting stage.

One enemy a black beetle about three-fourths of an inch long, was found eating many of the worms.

A wasp-like insect laid eggs in the worms and the larvae hatching from the eggs destroyed the army worm and then pupated in small white cases resembling rice grains. These were observed by many of the farmers.

A third enemy was in the form of a fly, which laid eggs that hatched out a maggot that destroyed the worm.

The moth responsible for the army worm is slate-colored and about one and one-fourth inches across the extended wings. They may be distinguished from other similar moths by a very small white spot in each fore wing.

Specimens of the moth may be seen in the County Agent's office. Farmers should familiarize themselves with the moth and when they are again found in abundance it will be wise to be on the lookout for the worms, according to Mr. Detrick.

OMNIBUS BILL AIMED TO ELIMINATE REDS

Bolshevism in the United States Will be Destroyed by Measure Being Prepared.

TO BE VIRTUAL LEGAL CODE

(By United Press.)

Washington, July 3.—A sweeping omnibus bill aimed to eliminate all radical agitations in America, is now being prepared, Senator Nelson, Minnesota, chairman of the judiciary committee said today.

Bolshevism in the United States will be destroyed by the comprehensive measure, members of the committee believe.

It will be a virtual legal code against the Reds and will combine features of a dozen or more bills now pending in the senate which have many conflicting features.

The committee in drafting the act is utilizing information obtained in the exhaustive hearing last spring when every phase of radical agitations was probed.

TOLEDO IS MECCA FOR OLD TIMERS

Jack Dillon, Jack McAuliffe, Billy McCarniey, Battling Nelson and Others

JACK JOHNSON NOT PRESENT.

Still ReHashing the Fights Which Were Fought Years Ago—Some Still Good.

By H. C. HAMILTON
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Toledo, Ohio, July 3.—Shades of a withered past swept over Toledo today.

Riding on the shoulders of old fighters they gathered in the hotel lobbies and other meeting places, where they whispered reminiscences of old battles that were eagerly listened to by a younger generation.

There was Jack Dillon—old Bear Cat Jack—who has whipped in his time many a heavyweight who aspired to the throne held by Jesse Willard. He's like an old man as he wanders the streets of Toledo, shaking hands with old acquaintances. Jack's legs have gone back on him and never again will he be able to perform the feats that made him the greatest fighter of the age, even though his weight usually was far less than that of the men he battled. But none ever will forget the masterful licking he administered to Frank Moran—a man considered equal to the task of whipping champions.

There was Jack McAuliffe—a 200 pound Jack now. Dressed faultlessly, with the inevitable buttoniere, a stick in his hand, Jack appeared to be a man about town instead of the famous old lightweight, who never knew a defeat and who retired when he was still lightweight champion of the world. McAuliffe recalled many an old battle as he talked of what he referred to as "the good old days" when men fought with bare knuckles to a finish, and the winner took all the purse.

And there was Billy McCarniey, a young Billy in spite of the years that have passed over his head. Never a great fighter in the last fifteen years that Billy hasn't seen and had something to do with. A picture of the July 4 battle at Reno nine years ago when Jack Johnson took his place at the head of the list of heavyweights hangs in the window of the building Tex Rickard and Frank Flourney have rented as headquarters and one of the plainest figures in the photograph is the head of Billy McCarniey. Remember that day when the wires flashed the news that Luther McCarty had been killed by a blow from Arthur Pelky in Calgary? Billy was McCarty's manager.

Battling Nelson slipped about the city in a half apologetic fashion. Bat's poor old battered head, once the target for so many punches, is a familiar sight to the men who have been here since preparations for the bout started. He brought a tent with him and pitched it inside the marks made to enclose the arena. The tent stayed there until a few days ago, when it was removed to prepare for the crowds. He lived through all the preliminary weeks right there. He carried about with him a notebook in which he jotted down his impressions of the fight and sold them to newspapers. He also pleaded for a chance to referee the mill, but was given little consideration.

Of course everyone remembers how Joe Mulvihill tried to get Col. James Miller to stage his proposed Fulton-Willard fight in Connecticut. Well, Joe is here. He's a newspaper man now, he says. Joe never had a lot of money, but he certainly tried hard to convince Col. Miller that he could get backing for the big bout, and almost succeeded, too. He's been a watchman at the arena for some of the time. But he will not miss seeing the fight, anyway.

If the powerful inducements offered during these seven days brings us into contact with hundreds of buyers who are still strangers to us, we shall feel amply compensated for the losses we sustain, for we rely wholly on our superior values to permanently retain their patronage.

The Hole in the Pocket

On all hands we are "bombarded" with the exhortation to be thrifty, to save. And, as a matter of fact, we have presented to us many of the most practical reasons for not saving. It becomes increasingly evident that there is much to be said in favor of blowing in all of our money—while we can buy something with it.

If conditions continue along their present course a man will soon be unable to buy a pair of trousers at the price which now purchases a suit of clothes. And the same price five years ago, would have bought a suit of clothes plus an overcoat.

It seems more practical, therefore, to stock up in clothes and everything else for the next five or six years.

But unfortunately fashions change, and if we are at all fastidious the extra dozen suits which we buy now will be out of date in a year or two. Still, if we do not worry over the vagaries of fashion we might endure that disadvantage.

But groceries will not keep quite so long. We must resign ourselves to eating as much as we can consume, and paying the increased prices which probably will be levied every few months.

We have no right to blame the grocer or the tailor. They charge more because they have to pay more. The dollar is the culprit. It has depreciated.

If you were a saving kind of person five years ago you put your money in the bank. Perhaps you saved to buy a few bonds. Or perhaps you merely kept money on deposit. You felt that if you did this for a few years you would have quite a tidy sum at the end of that time.

Instead of this, each dollar that you laboriously earned and saved is now worth sixty-five cents. If you have saved $1,000 you have really only $650. If you saved $5,000, you have $3,250 left. You have lost the rest, just as though you had dropped

Did you ever notice how few lawyers go to law themselves?

The beautiful thing about advice is that you don't have to take it.

The "flu" is a disease that keeps you sick a month or so after you get well.

Hez Heck says: "The mirror claims more of a woman's time than the cook stove."

What a blessing it would be if fat women could sort of average up avoirdupois with the lean!

Some people seem anxious to get well so they can resume eating the same things that made them sick in the first place.

It is the duty of the government by some economic measure, to stabilize the dollar. Otherwise, people will quit saving. They will naturally want to spend all of their money now, before it shrinks into nothing.

Every time prices take a jump, the dollar takes a slump. Soon it will reach the bottom of the greased skid.

A nation that has lost its habit of thrift is headed for swift economic disaster.

Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, who could not rise from his chair to hear the peace treaty read, stood firmly against signing it to the loss of his place in the cabinet. His backbone, apparently is much stronger than his legs.

While the United States was in the war 56,000 soldiers were killed in Europe. During the same period 226,000 men, women and children were killed by accident in the United States. Make "Safety First" your motto.

Saturday at The Mystic

A comedy, "All in the Swim," with Eddie Lyons and Lee Moran, will be shown at the Mystic theater Saturday, together with Ruth Clifford in "The Cabaret Girl."

"Let's Elope" at Princess.

Salutary lessons to young brides who think themselves neglected by their hard working husbands and who engage in more or less harmless flirtations with other men, are embraced in the development of the story of "Let's Elope," the new Paramount starring vehicle of Marguerite Clark, which will be presented at the Princess tonight and tomorrow. The theme is a fascinating one and its treatment by producer and star has been guided by delicacy and taste with superb effect.

The story is based upon Fred Jackson's successful play, "The Naughty Wife," which made a big hit in New York during the season of 1917-18. The adaptation was made by Katherine Reed and John S. Robertson directed. The photography is the work of Hal Young, who is generally recognized as a wizard with the lens.

The plot deals with a young wife of an author who believes herself neglected and plans to elope with a shallow-brained young man. How the husband learns of this and takes a hand in the subsequent proceedings combines to make this one

New and Bright Yarns That Will Tickle You and Will be Relished by Your Friends When You Repeat Them.

He's never heard must of Burleson because the P. M. G., so far as he was concerned, was old Jerry Dennison. But Jerry, after 28 years in the local postoffice, just up and went and died and never asked nobody's permission. Sam Jeffries, obviously a politician, succeeded Jerry and was back of the peep-hole when old man Sangster came in. Sangster's package had been badly wrapped at home and the twine had been lost enroute from the farm. "Gimme a leetle hunk of twine?"

"Nup. Can't do it. New rules."

"Well, you usta."

"Not now; no more." The old man ambled over to the table and tried to fasten the package with pins. No use. He ambled back to the window.

"Well, mabbe you can give a body a rubber band?"

"Nup. Can't do it. New rules."

"Well, you usta."

"Not now; no more."

The old man brushed a gnarled knuckle across his nose, sniffed, and queried blandly:

"How about some red tape?"

A prize of one dollar will be awarded for all funny stories which are accepted for this column. They should be brief and to the point.

Why Is the Essex Bought By

Men In Remote Sections Where An Essex Has Not Been Seen Mail Their Orders. It Is An Unusual Mark of Confidence

Men Who Have Never Seen It?

There is a strange and strong interest in the Essex which we have not been able to fully explain.

You hear the most sincere endorsements for its qualities from men who have never even seen the car. We believe that more than half a million people now do intimately know the Essex, but that does not account for what is being said about it in remote communities where no Essex car has yet appeared.

Distributors report having received orders by mail from persons who say they have heard so much about the Essex that they know it is the car they want.

Perhaps you, too, are one who has not yet seen the Essex. Yet you cannot be a reader of these words and not have heard what people on every hand are saying about it.

Because of what you have heard others say, you approach the Essex with the most favorable impressions. With so many thousands making the Essex the standard of their automobile desires, there is some explanation for the confidence evidenced when men send their money for a car they have never seen.

Surely It Is Not Because Of What We Have Said

All that you have heard about the Essex is what others have said for it. We have made no claim for it. We have published no descriptions. We have not said it is a better car than any other. We have not even intimated that its performance excels the performance of other cars. But on all sides you hear it compared to cars you know favorably and in most cases to the advantage of the Essex. There can be but one explanation for that and that is the Essex must through sheer merit have won the admiration of those who have seen and ridden in it.

Then It Must Be What Others Are Saying

In every community some one car is recognized as leader. It is not just any car of a given make but an individual car that holds the best record for speed or acceleration or hill climbing. You must know some car in that way. And haven't you heard men attempt to explain the Essex by comparison with that car?

That is the way in which its riding qualities are described. Its finish and beauty are likened to similar qualities in other cars that people know favorably well.

In attempting to explain the reason for the way in which the Essex has been accepted we return always to the car itself. It must have qualities men have wanted. It was our aim to meet that demand. We wanted it to have the advantages in economy of cost and operation of the light cars and also have the endurance and performance as well as the appeal to pride which have been exclusive to costly cars.

Its Sales Now Prove It

Essex sales have been in excess of deliveries from the very day the car was announced. The production now approximates 100 a day, but does not begin to meet the needs. Ask any Essex dealer. If what others are saying carries the same conviction to you as it does to others, then you must sooner or later want an Essex. It is best to decide early.

It is understood that the varied interests in the live stock industry have made a determined fight to place their candidates on the commission. As the situation now appears the race had simmered down to six men.

The purpose of the law creating the Live Stock Sanitary Commission on which there would be two representatives actively engaged in the industry and two practicing veterinarians, is to promote a spirit of co-operation between the live stock interests and the veterinarians. The commission is also to establish rules for the protection of live stock. The state veterinarian under the present system is burdened with the making of rules. The commission will relieve the state veterinarian of this responsibility.

The new commission will select a state veterinarian who will act also as secretary of the commission and as its administrative agent. Under the old law the Governor appointed the state veterinarian for a term of four years. Dr. L. E. Northrup is

Dr. Anna Howard Shaw Falls Victim to Pneumonia Which She Contracted at Springfield, Ill.

LEADER IN MANY CAUSES

Philadelphia, July 3.—Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, age seventy-two, honorary president of the National American Woman's Suffrage Association and one of the most widely known women in America, died at her home in Moylan, Pa., near here, at 7 o'clock last evening.

She was stricken in Springfield, Ill., about a month ago while on a lecture tour with former President Taft and President Lowell, of Harvard university, in the interest of the league of nations. Pneumonia developed and for two weeks she was confined to her room in a Springfield hospital. She returned to her home about the middle of June and apparently had entirely recovered. Last Saturday she drove to Philadelphia in her automobile and on her return said that she was feeling "fine." She became suddenly ill again Tuesday with a recurrence of the disease and grew rapidly worse until the end.

Dr. Shaw continued her active participation in public affairs to the last. In the early summer of 1914, she went to Rome as chairman of the committee on suffrage and right of citizenship at the quinquennial session of the International Council of Women.

Immediately after hostilities had been terminated in France by the armistice, Dr. Shaw signed the resolution which she helped draft for the National American Woman Suffrage Association and addressed to the peace conference, asking for punishment of the Germans for their crimes against women and girls.

The American's Creed

I believe in the United States of America, as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; a perfect union, one and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

I, therefore, believe it is my duty to my country to love it, to support its constitution, to obey its laws, to respect its flag, and to defend it against all enemies.

MILLER UNIFORM TIRES are the only tires with the famous tread that is Geared-to-the-Road. These many caterpillar feet engage the ground like cogs. They give positive traction—full power ahead—and safety. And for a sudden stop they fortify the brakes because they mesh with the road.

Uniform Miller Tires mean mileage certainty. That's because all are built to a championship standard by uniform workmanship. So all are long-distance runners.

RUSSIA IS NOT A LAND OF LIBERTY

Country Has no Laws But Several Million Manifestos Take Their Places

PROCLAMATIONS PUBLISHED

If You Act Contrary to Manifestos.
A Tribunal of Three Bolshe-
viks Settles Your Case

By FRANK J. TAYLOR
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

New York, July 2.—That Russia under the dictatorship of the under-dog is not exactly a land of liberty is one of the first discoveries of the foreigner visiting Moscow.

The bolsheviks like to call Russia the "free communistic republic." As a matter of fact, there are no laws, as they are known in other lands. But in their place there are several million manifestos, or proclamations that have been issued by various soviets.

Nobody knows just how many there are, nor has anybody taken the trouble to write them all down. Any soviet can issue manifestos, and all of them are prolific in exercising the privilege. Usually new manifestos are posted up on walls or are published in some paper.

If you act contrary to one of these manifestos, and a commissaire catches you—a commissaire is a bolshevik official—a tribunal settles your case. The tribunal is made up of three bolsheviks. It bothers not about either laws or manifestos, there being none of the former and too many of the latter. The tribunal simply decides what it thinks ought to be done to you, which may be anything from pardon for killing a man, to being shot at sunrise for stealing a loaf of bread, and it is done—that is bolshevik justice.

In soviet Russia, you are entirely at liberty, according to the bolsheviks. However, you cannot do any of the following things.

You cannot be at large without a permit to live issued by the commissaires. You need that for the right to breathe.

You cannot buy a pair of socks, a shirt, or any kind of clothes or merchandise. It is forbidden for stores to sell or people to buy merchandise. They are supposed to wait until it is issued.

It is forbidden to leave town, or travel anywhere, except on official business. Individuals cannot go from one town to another on private business or because they want to travel.

You cannot rent a room or move into a new house, unless a commissaire assigns you to new quarters. You have to go where he says. Hotels do not exist. They are confiscated for headquarters.

It is forbidden to quit your job if you do not like it. You are considered an enemy of the government if you strike. The government can mobilize you to any job it wishes, just as though you were a soldier.

You cannot have a bank account, own a bicycle or automobile, own firearms unless you are a bolshevik, or be the sole proprietor of anything of commercial value.

Otherwise, you are perfectly free—with a few more exceptions.

The bolshevik idea of liberty was impressed upon the United Press correspondent when he first arrived in Moscow. He was under guard, and was taken first to the police station. There, among all the millions of manifestos, the police commissaire could not find any which outlined regulations regarding foreign press correspondents who came into soviet land through the back door—the Lithuanian front.

The police commissaire decided to "pass the buck" to the foreign office secretary. "Why have a foreign office if it can't decide whether foreigners we catch here have any right to live or not?" he asked.

Under guard, but otherwise unharmed and unsmug—as well as unwashed, unshaved, and unclean from the long train trip—the correspondent was ushered before the foreign secretary, whose first act was to heap a trade of abuse of all Entente lands upon the head of the only specimen in captivity at the time.

Finally he relented and said,

"We'll let you stay here a few days. I suppose the first thing is to get you out of arrest. Wait here while I see if it can be done."

Half an hour later an assistant came back and announced with a note of triumph, "Well, you're free. You're at perfect liberty."

"Thanks, that's fine. I suppose I can hunt up a room now and clean up. Can you recommend a hotel?"

"No, I can't, replied the bolshevik, "There aren't any hotels. They're confiscated. I'll take you home with me to-night."

"Can you recommend some one I can hire for interpreter?"

"No, it can't be done," said the Russian, "You can't hire anyone. You'd be a capitalist, if you did."

"Is there any objection to my taking some pictures. I brought a camera?"

"You cannot do that, either," ruled the bolshevik, "It is forbidden for private individuals to have cameras. You'd better keep yours under cover or it may be confiscated."

"Guess there isn't much I can do right now is there?"

"No, except read these pamphlets," he said, handing over a pile of propaganda, "You'll have to be interned now for a couple of hours, until I get through. I don't think you'd better wander about alone. You might get lost, or be arrested if you have no guide."

But otherwise you have perfect liberty in bolshevik Russia.

FEW BERRIES THIS YEAR

Crop is Short, According to Those
Who Have Made Investigation

With the raspberry season at hand, many local people have been greatly disappointed after making the trip to the south end of Rush county, and Franklin county, is not finding the berries in any great quantity. This part of the county every year draws hundreds of pickers, but there is a scarcity this year.

The intense cultivation of the last two or three seasons has played havoc with many acres of venerable briars and anyway the yield this season of this small but delicious fruit is below the average. As to blackberries, if half the green ones now on the vines develop, there will be a huge yield. Both sorts of berries are now in need of rain.

ing to Affect a Change.

Indianapolis, Ind., July 3—Representatives of the U. S. department of agriculture were in Indianapolis today to conduct a hearing on the proposed rules and regulations drafted by the department under the federal act governing grain warehouses.

The meeting here was one of fifteen being held at central points in grain producing sections of the country.

The regulations effect every grain producer, carrier, dealer and miller in the country. The hearings are to obtain suggestion for alterations.

U.S. SOLDIERS WANT TO MARRY GERMAN GIRLS

More Than 100 Inquiries Were Made by Various Individuals, Including Officers.

RULING TO BE MADE SOON

Coblentz, July 3—The judge advocate's department at army headquarters here was kept busy yesterday with inquiries from various parts of the occupied area as to whether marriages between American soldiers and German girls would be permitted now that the peace treaty has been signed. More than 100 inquiries were made by various individuals, including several officers.

These came from the division headquarters of five of the divisions of the 3d army and from various other units, a number of men inquiring personally at headquarters.

A ruling on the question will be made in a few days. The order against fraternizing with Germans still is in force, nominally at least, and will continue probably until Germany ratifies the treaty.

MORE RED BLOOD AND STEADIER NERVES FOR RUN DOWN PEOPLE

The World Demands, Strong, Vigorous, Keen-Minded, Men and Women

It has been said of Americans that they work their habits overtime.

Many become nervous and inefficient by overwork.

By worry, despondency, social affairs, robbing brain and body of needed rest; excessive use of tobacco, indulgence in strong alcoholic drink—excesses of every kind that burn up the vital powers so necessary in these trying times to make both men and women fit to be of help to themselves and others.

It is time to be temperate in all things. The man or woman with impaired nerves caused by impoverished blood lacks vigor, the ambition, the endurance and the keen mind of those who avoid excesses.

Timidity, despondency, fear, trembling hands, want of confidence and even cowardliness, are due in a large measure to abused nerves.

People with plenty of red blood corpuscles and strong, healthy nerves have no desire to shirk work and lean on others for guidance and support.

There is hardly a nerve-shattered man or woman (unless of an organic disease) in America today who cannot become alert and clear in mind; vigorous and energetic in body in a very few weeks and at trifling cost.

To become strong and ambitious, to feel that work is not drudgery; to have steady nerves, abundance of red blood and power of endurance; to be not only a man but as men now go, a superman, you must take seven tablets of Bio-feren every day for seven days—and take them faithfully.

Take two after each meal and one at bedtime and after seven days take one only after meal until the supply is exhausted.

Then if you feel that any claim made in this special notice is untrue—if your nerves are not twice as steady as before, if you do not feel ambitious, more vigorous and keen-minded, the pharmacist who dispensed the tablets to you will gladly hand you back just what you paid for them.

FREE DIRT—Will have several loads for disposal from basement excavation. Phone Will Feudner, 2111 or 2224. 72t10

Powerful Pile Remedy Discovered

Has Never Failed to End Most Ob-
stinate Case of Piles in Few Days

For years it has been proved that so-called external remedies applied to or inserted in the rectum cannot cure piles, and at the best can only give temporary relief. Surgical operations also do not remove this cause, but simply the formation.

This wonderful prescription, known as Miro Pile Remedy, is so efficient in the treatment of piles, that even chronic cases of from 20 to 30 years standing with profuse bleeding have been completely cured in from three to ten days. Think of it! Just a few doses of a carefully balanced prescription and the most persistent case of piles is absorbed, never to return.

All pharmacists dispense Miro or can get it for you on short notice. Surely it's worth the little trouble to obtain it to be rid of piles forever.

IMPORTANT—What is known as itching piles are not piles in the true sense of the word, although this condition may accompany a true case of piles. For this condition Miro Pile Ointment has been prepared as in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal prescription.—(Adv.)

CAPTAIN WILLIAMS REBUKED A MAJOR

American Army Captain Gets Credit
for the Famous Reply, "Retreat? Hell, No."

AWARDED DISTINGUISH CROSS

Was Ordered to Withdraw His Troops But Held Them Against
The Germans

(By United Press.)

Washington, July 2.—"Retreat? Hell, no!"

This famous American reply to a French order when Americans moved into the Chateau-Thierry sector for their test of fire, has at last been very clearly traced to a Marine captain.

It was stated authoritatively today that the emphatic Yank answer, attributed for months to Gen. Omar Bundy, 2nd Division commander at Chateau-Thierry, despite his repeated denial, came from Capt. Lloyd M. Williams, 51st Company, 5th Marines.

Six days later, Captain Williams, gassed and torn by shrapnel, died as he was placed in an ambulance.

A French division exhausted by days of desperate fighting against the relentless German advance, was withdrawing down shell-torn roads around Chateau-Thierry, past the relieving 2nd Division.

Captain Williams's company of the 2nd, half doughboys and half Marines, with a sprinkling of Navy medical men was awaiting the withdrawal of the French. They were taking for the first time the front-line positions which Americans were to hold against the pick of the German shock troops.

A French major, moving with his battalion along the dark road and believing a general withdrawal had been ordered, told Williams to follow.

"Retreat?" the American asked. "Hell, no!"

Williams reported the incident to his battalion commander, Colonel (then major) F. W. Wise. The message, according to officers who said they saw it, was:

"French drawing back through us, French major ordered me to withdraw with him. I told him to go to hell."

"WILLIAMS, C. O."

The company, with the rest of the 2nd, completed their relief and formed a line the Germans never broke. Captain Williams was killed six days later—June 12, 1918. Gassed and wounded by shrapnel, he was carried to the rear by four German prisoners. On the way back, a shell struck nearby. Two of the stretcher-bearers were killed and Captain Williams was thrown to the ground. He lived, however, until he was placed in an ambulance.

A distinguished service cross for extraordinary heroism was sent later to his home at Berryville, Va., where he had lived before he graduated from Virginia Polytechnic Institute. Since 1910, when he entered the Marines, he had made his home at Washington.

Though every hour of the following four weeks was filled with excitement, officers and men who heard of or saw the incident remembered it and repeated it. Then it followed the usual course of stories.

First the saying was attributed to the battalion commander, Colonel Wise; then to General (then colonel) W. C. Neville, commanding the 5th Marines; then to Gen. James G. Harbord, commanding the Marine Brigade of the 2nd Division, and finally to General Bundy, division commander, according to officers.

General Bundy now, in command of Camp Lee, Va., when interviewed at Camp Lee by a United Press correspondent, denied emphatically he had made the statement. He refused to discuss the incident for publication.

Officers of the 2nd Division declared flatly that Williams made the statement, and that passed along by word of mouth, its authorship had been credited to increasingly higher officers.

The message was a part of the records of the 2nd Battalion, 5th

SAYS WILHELM WILL BE TRIED

Lloyd George Announces in House of Commons That Former Kaiser Must Stand Trial.

DOUBT ABOUT EXTRADITION

Belief Expressed in Official Circles Will Turn Him Over When Allies Make Demand.

(By United Press.)

London, July 3.—William Hohenzollern, former kaiser of the German empire, will soon be tried in London by an allied tribunal. Premier Lloyd George announced in the house of commons this afternoon. This official announcement was regarded as removing all doubt as to the allies' intention to bring the "war lord to justice."

The attitude of the Dutch government regarding extradition of Wilhelm is now cloudy. Statements by various officials in Holland have shown the inclination against turning him over to any other than the German government. But the belief has been expressed in official circles at The Hague that when the allies demand is actually presented, the Dutch will accept it through fear of pressure of the allies, if for no other reason.

An unofficial dispatch reported today that unusual activities were observed at Amerongen castle, where the former kaiser is at present interned. This was interpreted as indicating his intention to move, possibly to another point in Holland.

Germany is divided over trial for Wilhelm. The military caste bitterly opposes it and the radicals openly advocate that he be tried by a German socialist tribunal.

Lloyd George also stated that other high officials who committed any crimes will be tried.

"The peace terms are in many respects terrible," declared Lloyd George, "but are aimed for those who committed the terrible crimes." The premier declared that Germany is now unable to disturb the peace. He said the limit of reparation is Germany's ability to pay.

The restoration of 1,500,000 miles of German colonies is impossible, he said, because of the former ill treatment of the nations by Germany.

Lloyd George was given a remarkable ovation at the beginning

DIRIGIBLE MORE THAN HALF ACROSS

R-34 is 1,500 Miles Out on Trans-Atlantic Flight at 5 a. m., New York Time

WILL REACH LAND TOMORROW

Giant Airship is Flying in Sunshine Above Clouds at Altitude of 2,000 Feet

(By United Press.)

London, July 3.—The British dirigible R-34 was nearly 1,500 miles out on her trans-Atlantic flight at 9 a. m. Greenwich time, 5 a. m. New York time today, the air ministry announced this afternoon.

The airship still continued her flight due westward and was reported as still flying above the fog.

General Seely, announced in the house of commons this afternoon that the R-34 was 325 miles east of St. John, Newfoundland, at six o'clock this morning, 1 a. m. New York time.

Cape Race, Newfoundland, July 3.—The big star liner Megantic reported today that at 6 a. m., Greenwich time, 2 a. m. New York time, she picked up a wireless from the R-34 giving the dirigible's position at approximately 1,000 miles west of East Fortune, Scotland.

The R-34, the message said, was flying in the sunshine above the clouds at an altitude of 2,000 feet.

London, July 3.—The R-34, plowing through fog banks in mid-Atlantic was making slower time than was anticipated when the last wireless reports were received from her, but was expected to reach America sometime tomorrow.

When the big dirigible left East Fortune, yesterday morning, she maintained a speed of more than 40 miles an hour until she plunged into the fog off the west coast of Ireland. Then her progress was retarded until she arose above the clouds. The latest message showed her making about 35 miles an hour and maintaining an altitude of 2,000 feet. Asked by the East Fortune wireless station if he was receiving sufficient weather reports, Major Scott, commander, replied:

"Thanks we are in touch with Ponta Delgado, St. John and Clifden, Ireland."

Two British warships stationed about one-half way across to render the dirigible any needed aid, had not reported any communication from her early today.

Various steamers reported picking up a message saying the dirigible was making good time and expected to land on Long Island tomorrow

CRUEL, INHUMAN TREATMENT

Mrs. Wolf Wants Custody of Her Child and Demands Support Money From Donald Wolf

Declaring that their husbands were cruel and resorted to inhuman treatment, two divorce cases were filed late yesterday afternoon in the circuit court, Chauncey Duncan representing the defendant in both cases.

Elva Jones filed suit against John R. Jones, declaring in the complaint that he was high tempered, ill natured, disagreeable and of an extremely jealous disposition, without cause or occasion, and that he called her vile names and at one time struck and kicked her violently, and slapped her in the face.

Mrs. Jones states that they were married August 16, 1913 and separated December 24, 1918, one child Newell, age five being born. Mrs. Jones did not ask for the support of the child, as it is now being cared for by its father, who resides in LaPorte County, and as the complaint states, she is now employed in a printing office in Rushville, and is not able financially to support the child.

Marietta Wolf, being under 21, filed suit for divorce by her next friend her father, E. A. Wolf, against her husband, Donald Wolf. She states that they were married June 29, 1918 and separated September 7, 1918, and that there was one child born to them.

Mrs. Wolf alleges that he cursed her incessantly, calling her vile and infamous names, and was cruel. That he refused to go to house-keeping and provide a good home, although he was amply able to do so. She also alleges that he stayed

The texts of the agreements between France and the United States and France and Great Britain were given out by the foreign office late last night.

The agreement with the United States cites articles of the peace treaty prohibiting Germany from fortifying either the right or left bank of the Rhine or assembling forces within thirty miles east of the Rhine and provides, in case these provisions do not assure France proper security and protection, that the United States shall be bound to come immediately to the aid of France if any unprovoked act of aggression is made against her by Germany.

It is provided that the treaties shall be submitted to the council of the league of nations which decide whether to recognize them as engagements in conformity with the league covenant, and it is also provided that the respective treaty shall be submitted to the United States senate and the French parliament for approval.

HOG RAISERS HERE SET TWO RECORDS

George Reeves Tops Market and W. A. Alexander Realizes Most on One Shipment.

HIGHEST PRICE IN HISTORY

Mr. Reeves Says His 65 Hogs Bring in $22.25 Shows That Good Breeding Pays.

Rush county hog raisers set two records in Indianapolis yesterday, when hogs sold for the highest price ever paid in Indianapolis.

George Reeves topped the record market with sixty-five head which sold for $22.25 a hundred, being 25 cents over the top on other hogs yesterday.

W. A. Alexander sold sixty-one head for $4,287.80, the largest sum ever realized on a single load on the Indianapolis market.

George Reeves declared today that the record established by his shipment yesterday plainly revealed that good breeding pays because everyone of the sixty-five head was a thoroughbred and eligible to record as such.

The extreme top for all other hogs sold, except Mr. Reeves, was $22.10 and the majority of the shipments topped the market at $22, which represented an increase of thirty-five cents over the day before and 75 cents since last Thursday.

The shipment of sixty-five head, for which Mr. Reeves received a check for $3,470.75 from Powell Brothers, commission firm, weighed 16,016 pounds, an average of 247 pounds a head.

There were sixty-one head in the shipment sold by Mr. Alexander, averaging 319 pounds and selling for $70.29 each.

The records won by the local stock raisers further establishes Rush county as the greatest hog-producing county in the United States and will extend its reputation as the home of good live stock.

Prices yesterday were not only the

Fourth May be Enjoyed in Sweltering Sun Because Weather Will Continue Hot

PICNICS CHIEF DIVERSION

The old weather man promises some nice weather for the Fourth of July, and announced that it would be fair tonight and continued warmer tomorrow. While there is not much going on here, nevertheless Rushville people will spend the day in some of the neighboring places where entertainments are being advertised.

With weather like it has been, it makes the Fourth seem all the more real, and a picnic with scorching weather is promised so that the bathers and fishers may enjoy the sweltering sun. In years past a July 4th picnic was not complete unless a case of "wet goods" and a cake of ice was along, but this year, the thirst will have to be quenched with water, or some of the "kickless beer."

Many Rushville people are planning on going to Flat Rock cave and many to McCoy Lake, near Greensburg, and old Flatrock in this vicinity will be the picnic grounds for many.

Practically all business will be suspended here tomorrow, and only groceries and meat shops will remain open up until noon, and drug stores will observe Sunday hours. No mail deliveries will be made and the postoffice will be closed all day. The banks remain closed all day.

LIEUT. COL. JONES IS HERE Former Rushville Physician on Ten Days Leave of Absence

Lieut. Col. George B. Jones, former Rushville physician, is here on ten day leave of absence while on the way from New York, where he recently landed after more than a year's service overseas, to Camp Funston, Kansas. Lieut. Col. Jones and Lieut. Col. Osborne, formerly a Glenwood physician, are the only Rush county men to have reached this rank during their service in the army. Lieut. Col. Jones has been in the army since 1898 when he enlisted for the Spanish-American war. He was decorated before leaving for the States for services rendered in caring for the wounded.

NOTICES SENT TO PROPERTY OWNERS

They Are Asked to Visit Board of Review Next Wednesday If They Have Any Complaints.

NO FIGURES IN THE NOTICES

Board Believes Majority in Rushville Know What New Values Are Because of Daily Publication.

Notices were being mailed today to owners of real estate and improvements in Rushville city, notifying them that changes had been made in their assessments, and that if they had any complaint to make, they should appear before the county board of review next Wednesday, July 9, when the last session of the board will be held.

The notices do not state the new valuation fixed on the real estate and improvements which have been reassessed by the county board in an effort to increase and equalize the valuations in the city. The board decided that if owners whose appraisements have been changed, had not seen the new valuations, which have appeared daily in the Daily Republican, they could call on the board and find out the amount of the assessment. Those who have seen their new appraisements in the Republican, if they have any complaints to make, may call on the board next Wednesday, which will be their last opportunity.

A few property owners, having noted the changes made by the publication in the Republican, have already appeared before the board, but the number of complaints has been remarkably small, considering the fact that the valuation of every piece of real estate and all improvements in the city of Rushville have or will be changed.

The board will have to complete the reassessment of Rushville early next week in order to finish the work of appraising the corporations. Yesterday all the property between Harrison and Jackson streets were finished and the board began working north this morning between Jackson and Sexton streets.

The total valuation of property appraised yesterday amounted to $222,800.

Valuations from Fifth to Eighth streets were fixed as follows:

Lincoln Giffin, $4,100; Blanche Riley, $2,500; Jennie Berkley, $900; Sarah Adams, $700; Martha Weeks, $1,800; Nancy Alexander, et al., $900; Henry Schattner, $1,100; Edward Haywood, $2,000; Arnold Orme, $1,600; Oliver and Nellie O'Brien, $1,500; Glen Foster, $3,000; John B. Pusey, $2,000; Emma Smith, $1,600; W. A. Green, $1,800; Hettie Retherford, $2,400; Michael Seanlan, $3,500; Will L. Mulho, $3,100; Craig and Gregg, $2,800; Eliza Ann Newhouse, $3,000; J. T. Paxton, $3,000; Charley Boys, $3,000.

FRED LIGHTFOOT MAY LAND PLUM

Farmer of Near Raleigh Said to be Choice of Goodrich for Place on Live Stock Commission

TO REWARD LOCAL EFFORTS

Expected Member Would Come From Here, But Generally Thought He Would Be Republican

There is a strong probability that Fred Lightfoot of near Raleigh will be appointed one of the democratic members of the bi-partisan live stock sanitary commission, created by an act of the last legislature, which takes the place of the state board of veterinary medical examiners.

It is presumed that the appointment of the Rush county live stock man will be the reward for local men who worked so hard to put the bill creating the commission, through the general assembly. Although it was hinted before the measure was ever passed, that a member of the commission would come from Rush county, it was generally thought that the Rush county man would be a republican.

Live stock men here worked industriously for the passage of the bill and made a special effort to have it become a law in its original form. As it was introduced, the bill provided for abolishing the state stallion enrollment board, which is now in charge of the Purdue university authorities, and vesting the powers of the board in the live stock commission. They failed in this, however, because Purdue was so strong in the legislature to allow a plan like the stallion enrollment board to be taken away from it.

According to the Indianapolis Star, it is likely that Governor Goodrich will appoint Dr. Haskill Left of Seymour as the Republican veterinarian on the commission and John L. Kimmiller of Logansport as the Democratic veterinarian. Dr. Haskill is at present assistant state veterinarian. A number of men actively engaged in the live stock industry are mentioned for the fourth place on the commission. Among these are A. M. Brown of Winchester, secretary of the National Poland China Breeders Association, and Thomas Grant of Lake County, both Republicans. As Mr. Grant was a member of the 1919 Legislature it is not likely that he will be appointed, although membership on the commission is not required.

SUN IGNITES STRAW CAUSING A BARN FIRE

Property Belonging to Frank Windeler Destroyed and Phone Cable Burned in Two.

NEW SALEM LINE IS PUT OUT

Fire, supposedly caused by the heat of the sun shining through a glass window and igniting some straw, soon destroyed a barn owned by Frank Windeler, back of his home in Circleville, about two-thirds this afternoon. The barn contained crates and some straw, and glass valued at $125. The amount of insurance carried was only $175 and only partially covers the loss.

The Rushville Telephone company also suffered a loss as the main line cable, connecting over 100 phones, was burnt in two, and communication along the New Salem pike and New Salem will be off until repairs can be made. The chemical truck from the fire station was called and was in readiness in case the fire spread.

FIRST 1919 WHEAT IS THRESHED IN COUNTY

Grain From Frank Offutt's Farm, Delivered at Arlington, Grades No. 2, Bringing $2.08.

MOST OF IT GOOD QUALITY

The first wheat was threshed in Rush county today, at least a week before the time it was expected any would be threshed here.

The wheat came from Frank Offutt's farm in Posey township and was delivered to Hutchinson's elevator in Arlington. The wheat graded No. 2, weighed 58 to 59 pounds to the bushel and tested from 11 1/2 to 12 per cent moisture. The price paid for the wheat was $2.08 a bushel, which is the price fixed for grading No. 2.

It was stated this afternoon that the wheat was not turning out as well as expected, considering the size of the stalks. There were reported to be some shrunken grains but for the most part it was of good quality. It was impossible to determine this afternoon how much the crop on Offutt's farm would average because only a few loads had been delivered to the elevator.

now developing into the moth which will lay eggs at once. In about 8 to 10 days the eggs will hatch into the larva or worm stage and begin to feed.

The moths are strong fliers and are usually carried by the winds for many miles before they begin to deposit their eggs. Therefore, if Rush County is annoyed by the fall brood, it will be because the moths have been carried here by the winds from some other locality.

Three enemies were found to be working on the worms here, and as a result a large percent of the worms were destroyed before going into the resting stage.

One enemy a black beetle about three-fourths of an inch long, was found eating many of the worms.

A wasp-like insect laid eggs in the worms and the larvae hatching from the eggs destroyed the army worm and then pupated in small white cases resembling rice grains. These were observed by many of the farmers.

A third enemy was in the form of a fly, which laid eggs that hatched out a maggot that destroyed the worm.

The moth responsible for the army worm is slate-colored and about one and one-fourth inches across the extended wings. They may be distinguished from other similar moths by a very small white spot in each fore wing.

Specimens of the moth may be seen in the County Agent's office. Farmers should familiarize themselves with the moth and when they are again found in abundance it will be wise to be on the lookout for the worms, according to Mr. Detrick.

OMNIBUS BILL AIMED TO ELIMINATE REDS

Bolshevism in the United States Will be Destroyed by Measure Being Prepared.

TO BE VIRTUAL LEGAL CODE

(By United Press.)

Washington, July 3.—A sweeping omnibus bill aimed to eliminate all radical agitations in America, is now being prepared, Senator Nelson, Minnesota, chairman of the judiciary committee said today.

Bolshevism in the United States will be destroyed by the comprehensive measure, members of the committee believe.

It will be a virtual legal code against the Reds and will combine features of a dozen or more bills now pending in the senate which have many conflicting features.

The committee in drafting the act is utilizing information obtained in the exhaustive hearing last spring when every phase of radical agitations was probed.

TOLEDO IS MECCA FOR OLD TIMERS

JACK JOHNSON NOT PRESENT.

Still ReHashing the Fights Which Were Fought Years Ago—Some Still Good.

By H. C. HAMILTON
(U. P. Staff Correspondent.)

Toledo, Ohio, July 3.—Shades of a withered past swept over Toledo today.

Riding on the shoulders of old fighters they gathered in the hotel lobbies and other meeting places, where they whispered reminiscences of old battles that were eagerly listened to by a younger generation.

There was Jack Dillon—old Bear Cat Jack—who has whipped in his time many a heavyweight who aspired to the throne held by Jesse Willard. He's like an old man as he wanders the streets of Toledo, shaking hands with old acquaintances. Jack's legs have gone back on him and never again will he be able to perform the feats that made him the greatest fighter of the age, even though his weight usually was far less than that of the men he battled. But none ever will forget the masterful kicking he administered to Frank Moran—a man considered equal to the task of whipping champions.

There was Jack McAuliffe—a 200 pound Jack now. Dressed faultlessly, with the inevitable buttoniere, a stick in his hand, Jack appeared to be a man about town instead of the famous old lightweight, who never knew a defeat and who retired when he was still lightweight champion of the world. McAuliffe recalled many an old battle as he talked of what he referred to as "the good old days" when men fought with bare knuckles to a finish, and the winner took all the purse.

And there was Billy McCarniey, a young Billy in spite of the years that have passed over his head. Never a great fight in the last fifteen years that Billy hasn't seen and had something to do with. A picture of the July 4 battle at Reno nine years ago when Jack Johnson took his place at the head of the list of heavyweights hangs in the window of the building. Tex Rickard and Frank Flourney have rented as headquarters and one of the plainest figures in the photograph is the head of Billy McCarniey. Remember that day when the wires flashed the news that Luther McCarty had been killed by a blow from Arthur Pelky in Calgary? Billy was McCarty's manager.

Battling Nelson slipped about the city in a half apologetic fashion. Bat's poor old battered head, once the target for so many punches, is a familiar sight to the men who have been here since preparations for the bout started. He brought a tent with him and pitched it inside the marks made to enclose the arena. The tent stayed there until a few days ago, when it was removed to prepare for the crowds. He lived through all the preliminary weeks right there. He carried about with him a notebook in which he jotted down his impressions of the fight and sold them to newspapers. He also pleaded for a chance to referee the mill, but was given little consideration.

Of course everyone remembers how Joe Mulvihill tried to get Col. James Miller to stage his proposed Fulton-Willard fight in Connecticut. Well, Joe is here. He's a newspaper man now, he says. Joe never had a lot of money, but he certainly tried hard to convince Col. Miller that he could get backing for the big bout, and almost succeeded, too. He's been a watchman at the arena for some of the time. But he will not miss seeing the fight, anyway.

SAYS WILHELM

of his speech. He pleaded for the ratification of the Anglo-American alliance. He said the league of nations will be blown away with the first gust of wind unless strong nations are ready to halt the outbreak.

MISS COLUMBIA Celebrates the Fourth

Surely, in all our history she and we have never had better reason to celebrate.

We're going to make this historic Fourth a day we'll long remember. And Columbia Grafonolas and Records are ready to play their patriotic part in the big celebration.

On Columbia Records you'll find all the music of victory—the glorious songs and marches that played our boys into action over there, the national anthems of our Allies, American patriotic airs from Revolutionary days to date. The Columbia Grafonola plays this inspiring music with the snap and dash of the greatest military bands. Call at Boxley's Piano Store, the Columbia Record Shop. We will play you the latest selections on the newest Grafonolas. Then you can make your own selection and celebrate the greatest Fourth of July in our history with appropriate patriotic music.

JULY CLEARANCE SALE

Every dollar's worth of merchandise in the store included in this sale.

(Store Closed All Day Friday, July 4th)

We are not going to carry over a single piece of Summer goods. Even though merchandise is increasing in value, and even though we could get more than our this season's regular prices by holding our goods over, we are merchants—not speculators—we still doggedly adhere to our policy of clearing from season to season, and we are going to stick to this policy in the face of advancing markets. If the powerful inducements offered during these seven days brings us into contact with hundreds of buyers who are still strangers to us, we shall feel amply compensated for the losses we sustain, for we rely wholly on our superior values to permanently retain their patronage.

Sale starts Saturday, July 5th, and continues until Saturday evening, July 12th.

Sap and Salt

By BERT MOSES

Men listen to scandal as greedily as women spread it.

Did you ever notice how few lawyers go to law themselves?

The beautiful thing about advice is that you don't have to take it.

The "flu" is a disease that keeps you sick a month or so after you get well.

Hez Heck says: "The mirror claims more of a woman's time than the cook stove."

What a blessing it would be if fat women could sort of average up avoirdupois with the lean!

Some people seem anxious to get well so they can resume eating the same things that made them sick in the first place.

Our Daily Laugh

New and Bright Yarns That Will Tickle You and Will be Relished by Your Friends When You Repeat Them.

He's never heard must of Burlington because the P. M. G., so far as he was concerned, was old Jerry Dennison. But Jerry, after 28 years in the local postoffice, just up and went and died and never asked nobody's permission. Sam Jeffries, obviously a politician, succeeded Jerry and was back of the peephole when old man Sangster came in. Sangster's package had been badly wrapped at home and the twine had been lost enroute from the farm. "Gimme a leetle hunk of twine?"

"Nup. Can't do it. New rules."

"Well, you usta."

"Not now; no more." The old man ambled over to the table and tried to fasten the package with pins. No use. He ambled back to the window.

"Well, maybe you can give a body a rubber band?"

"Nup. Can't do it. New rules."

"Well, you usta."

"Not now; no more."

The old man brushed a gnarled knuckle across his nose, sniffed, and queried blandly:

"How about some red tape?"

A prize of one dollar will be awarded for all funny stories which are accepted for this column. They should be brief and to the point.

The Hole in the Pocket

On all hands we are bombarded with the exhortation to be thrifty, to save. And, as a matter of fact, we have presented to us many of the most practical reasons for not saving. It becomes increasingly evident that there is much to be said in favor of blowing in all of our money—while we can buy something with it.

If conditions continue along their present course a man will soon be unable to buy a pair of trousers at the price which now purchases a suit of clothes. And the same price five years ago would have bought a suit of clothes plus an overcoat.

It seems more practical, therefore, to stock up in clothes and everything else for the next five or six years.

But unfortunately fashions change, and if we are at all fastidious the extra dozen suits which we buy now will be out of date in a year or two. Still, if we do not worry over the vagaries of fashion we might endure that disadvantage.

But groceries will not keep quite so long. We must resign ourselves to eating as much as we can consume, and paying the increased prices which probably will be levied every few months.

We have no right to blame the grocer or the tailor. They charge more because they have to pay more. The dollar is the culprit. It has depreciated.

If you were a saving kind of person five years ago you put your money in the bank. Perhaps you saved to buy a few bonds. Or perhaps you merely kept money on deposit. You felt that if you did this for a few years you would have quite a tidy sum at the end of that time.

Instead of this, each dollar that you laboriously earned and saved is now worth sixty-five cents. If you have saved $1,000 you have really only $650. If you saved $5,000, you have $3,250 left. You have lost the rest, just as though you had dropped it in the sea. The dollar is to blame. It has shrunk.

It is the duty of the government by some economic measure, to stabilize the dollar. Otherwise, people will quit saving. They will naturally want to spend all of their money now, before it shrinks into nothing.

Every time prices take a jump, the dollar takes a slump. Soon it will reach the bottom of the greased skid.

A nation that has lost its habit of thrift is headed for swift economic disaster.

Count von Brockdorff-Rantzau, who could not rise from his chair to hear the peace treaty read, stood firmly against signing it to the loss of his place in the cabinet. His backbone, apparently, is much stronger than his legs.

While the United States was in the war 56,000 soldiers were killed in Europe. During the same period 226,000 men, women and children were killed by accident in the United States. Make "Safety First" your motto.

of the greatest comedies in which Miss Clark has been seen in many a day. Miss Clark wears several stunning gowns in this picture, all of which will interest her women admirers.

One of the strongest companies ever assembled in support of Miss Clark, appears in this picture. The cast is headed by Frank Mills who plays opposite to Miss Clark. Gaston Glass has an excellent role and others in the cast include Helen Green, Blanche Standing, George Stevens and Albert Busby.

CONNERSVILLE HOMECOMING

Brigadier General Ed. R. Chrisman Honored Today in Parade.

Connorsville, Ind., July 3—Fayette county today staged a homecoming celebration in honor of Brigadier General Edward R. Chrisman recently in command of the American forces in Porto Rico. He was born in Fayette county.

Former service men paraded in his honor. City and county officials and the county association of war mothers planned the reception.

MATTHEWS

ELECTRIC LIGHT AND POWER PLANTS have the lowest battery upkeep (your biggest item) because of correct proportions. Saturday at The Mystic

A comedy, "All in the Swim," with Eddie Lyons and Lee Moran, will be shown at the Mystic theater Saturday, together with Ruth Clifford in "The Cabaret Girl."

"Let's Elope" at Princess.

Salutary lessons to young brides who think themselves neglected by their hard working husbands and who engage in more or less harmless flirtations with other men, are embraced in the development of the story of "Let's Elope," the new Paramount starring vehicle of Marguerite Clark, which will be presented at the Princess tonight and tomorrow. The theme is a fascinating one and its treatment by producer and star has been guided by delicacy and taste with superb effect.

The story is based upon Fred Jackson's successful play, "The Naughty Wife," which made a big hit in New York during the season of 1917-18. The adaptation was made by Katherine Reed and John S. Robertson directed. The photography is the work of Hal Young, who is generally recognized as a wizard with the lens.

The plot deals with a young wife of an author who believes herself neglected and plans to elope with a shallow-brained young man. How she comes and learns of this, and takes a hand in the subsequent proceedings, is the story.

Why Is the Essex Bought By

Men In Remote Sections Where An Essex Has Not Been Seen Mail Their Orders. It Is An Unusual Mark of Confidence

Men Who Have Never Seen It?

There is a strange and strong interest in the Essex which we have not been able to fully explain.

You hear the most sincere endorsements for its qualities from men who have never even seen the car. We believe that more than half a million people now do intimately know the Essex, but that does not account for what is being said about it in remote communities where no Essex car has yet appeared.

Distributors report having received orders by mail from persons who say they have heard so much about the Essex that they know it is the car they want.

Perhaps you, too, are one who has not yet seen the Essex. Yet you cannot be a reader of these words and not have heard what people on every hand are saying about it.

Because of what you have heard others say, you approach the Essex with the most favorable impressions. With so many thousands making the Essex the standard of their automobile desires, there is some explanation for the confidence evidenced when men send their money for a car they have never seen.

Surely It Is Not Because Of What We Have Said

All that you have heard about the Essex is what others have said for it. We have made no claim for it. We have published no descriptions. We have not said it is a better car than any other. We have not even intimated that its performance exceeds the performance of other cars. But on all sides you hear it compared to cars you know favorably and in most cases to the advantage of the Essex. There can be but one explanation for that and that is the Essex must through sheer merit have won the admiration of those who have seen and ridden in it.

Then It Must Be What Others Are Saying

In every community some one car is recognized as leader. It is not just any car of a given make but an individual car that holds the best record for speed or acceleration or hill climbing. You must know some car in that way. And haven't you heard men attempt to explain the Essex by comparison with that car?

That is the way in which its riding qualities are described. Its finish and beauty are likened to similar qualities in other cars that people know favorably well.

In attempting to explain the reason for the way in which the Essex has been accepted we return always to the car itself. It must have qualities men have wanted. It was our aim to meet that demand. We wanted it to have the advantages in economy of cost and operation of the light cars and also have the endurance and performance as well as the appeal to pride which have been exclusive to costly cars.

Its Sales Now Prove It

Essex sales have been in excess of deliveries from the very day the car was announced. The production now approximates 100 a day, but does not begin to meet the needs. Ask any Essex dealer. If what others are saying carries the same conviction to you as it does to others, then you must sooner or later want an Essex. It is best to decide early.

It is understood that the varied interests in the live stock industry have made a determined fight to place their candidates on the commission. As the situation now appears the race had simmered down to six men.

The purpose of the law creating the Live Stock Sanitary Commission on which there would be two representatives actively engaged in the industry and two practicing veterinarians, is to promote a spirit of co-operation between the live stock interests and the veterinarians. The commission is also to establish rules for the protection of live stock. The state veterinarian under the present system is burdened with the making of rules. The commission will relieve the state veterinarian of this responsibility.

The new commission will select a state veterinarian who will act also as secretary of the commission and as its administrative agent. Under the old law the Governor appointed the state veterinarian for a term of

PIONEER WORKERS FOR SUFFRAGE DIES

Dr. Anna Howard Shaw Falls Victim to Pneumonia Which She Contracted at Springfield, Ill.

LEADER IN MANY CAUSES

Philadelphia, July 3.—Dr. Anna Howard Shaw, age seventy-two, honorary president of the National American Woman's Suffrage Association and one of the most widely known women in America, died at her home in Moylan, Pa., near here, at 7 o'clock last evening.

She was stricken in Springfield, Ill., about a month ago while on a lecture tour with former President Taft and President Lowell, of Harvard university, in the interest of the league of nations. Pneumonia developed and for two weeks she was confined to her room in a Springfield hospital. She returned to her home about the middle of June and apparently had entirely recovered. Last Saturday she drove to Philadelphia in her automobile and on her return said that she was feeling "fine." She became suddenly ill again Tuesday with a recurrence of the disease and grew rapidly worse until the end.

Dr. Shaw continued her active participation in public affairs to the last. In the early summer of 1914, she went to Rome as chairman of the committee on suffrage and right of citizenship at the quinquennial session of the International Council of Women.

Immediately after hostilities had been terminated in France by the armistice, Dr. Shaw signed the resolution which she helped draft for the National American Woman Suffrage Association and addressed to the peace conference, asking for punishment of the Germans for their crimes against women and girls.

The American's Creed

I believe in the United States of America, as a government of the people, by the people, for the people; whose just powers are derived from the consent of the governed; a democracy in a republic; a sovereign nation of many sovereign states; a perfect union, one and inseparable; established upon those principles of freedom, equality, justice and humanity for which American patriots sacrificed their lives and fortunes.

I, therefore, believe it is my duty to my country to love it, to support its constitution, to obey its laws, to respect its flag, and to defend it against all enemies.

Like An Extra Emergency Brake

—The Miller Tread That Is Geared-to-the-Road

MILLER UNIFORM TIRES are the only tires with the famous tread that is Geared-to-the-Road. These many caterpillar feet engage the ground like cogs. They give positive traction—full power ahead—and safety. And for a sudden stop they fortify the brakes because they mesh with the road.

Uniform Miller Tires mean mileage certainty. That's because all are built to a championship standard by uniform workmanship. So all are long-distance runners.

RUSSIA IS NOT A LAND OF LIBERTY

Country Has no Laws But Several Million Manifestos Take Their Places

PROCLAMATIONS PUBLISHED

If You Act Contrary to Manifestos,
A Tribunal of Three Bolshe-
viks Settles Your Case

By FRANK J. TAYLOR

(U. S. Staff Correspondent.)

New York, July 2.—That Russia under the dictatorship of the underdog is not exactly a land of liberty is one of the first discoveries of the foreigner visiting Moscow.

The bolsheviks like to call Russia the "free communistic republic." As a matter of fact, there are no laws, as they are known in other lands. But in their place there are several million manifestos, or proclamations that have been issued by various soviets.

Nobody knows just how many there are, nor has anybody taken the trouble to write them all down. Any soviet can issue manifestos, and all of them are prolific in exercising the privilege. Usually new manifestos are posted up on walls or are published in some paper.

If you act contrary to one of these manifestos, and a commissaire catches you—a commissaire is a bolshevik official—a tribunal settles your case. The tribunal is made up of three bolsheviks. It bothers not about either laws or manifestos, there being none of the former and too many of the latter. The tribunal simply decides what it thinks ought to be done to you, which may be anything from pardon for killing a man, to being shot at sunrise for stealing a loaf of bread, and it is done—that is bolshevik justice.

In soviet Russia, you are entirely at liberty, according to the bolsheviks. However, you cannot do any of the following things.

You cannot be at large without a permit to live issued by the commissaires. You need that for the right to breathe.

You cannot buy a pair of socks, a shirt, or any kind of clothes, or merchandise. It is forbidden for stores to sell or people to buy merchandise. They are supposed to wait until it is issued.

It is forbidden to leave town, or travel anywhere, except on official business. Individuals cannot go from one town to another on private business or because they want to travel.

You cannot rent a room or move into a new house, unless a commissaire assigns you to new quarters. You have to go where he says. Hotels do not exist. They are confiscated for headquarters.

It is forbidden to quit your job if you do not like it. You are considered an enemy of the government if you strike. The government can mobilize you to any job it wishes, just as though you were a soldier.

You cannot have a bank account, own a bicycle or automobile, own firearms unless you are a bolshevik, or be the sole proprietor of anything of commercial value.

Otherwise, you are perfectly free—with a few more exceptions.

The bolshevik idea of liberty was impressed upon the United Press correspondent when he first arrived in Moscow. He was under guard, and was taken first to the police station. There, among all the millions of manifestos, the police commissaire could not find any which outlined regulations regarding foreign press correspondents who came into soviet land through the back door—the Lithuanian front.

The police commissaire decided to "pass the buck" to the foreign office secretary. "Why have a foreign office if it can't decide whether foreigners we catch here have any right to live or not?" he asked.

Under guard, but otherwise unheralded and unsung—as well as unwashed, unshaved, and unclean from the long train trip—the correspondent was ushered before the foreign secretary, whose first act was to keep a trade of abuse of all Entente lands upon the head of the only specimen in captivity at the time. Finally he released and said:

"We'll let you stay here a few days. I suppose the first thing is to get you out of arrest. Wait here while I see if it can be done."

Half an hour later an assistant came back and announced with a note of triumph, "Well, you're free. You're at perfect liberty."

"Thanks, that's fine. I suppose I can hunt up a room now and clean up. Can you recommend a hotel?"

"No, I can't, replied the bolshevik, "There aren't any hotels. They're confiscated. I'll take you home with me to-night."

"Can you recommend some one I can hire for interpreter?"

"No, it can't be done," said the Russian, "You can't hire anyone. You'd be a capitalist, if you did."

"Is there any objection to my taking some pictures. I brought a camera."

"You cannot do that, either," ruled the bolshevik, "It is forbidden for private individuals to have cameras. You'd better keep yours under cover or it may be confiscated."

"Guess there isn't much I can do right now is there?"

"No, except read these pamphlets," he said, handing over a pile of propaganda, "You'll have to be interned now for a couple of hours, until I get through. I don't think you'd better wander about alone. You might get lost, or be arrested if you have no guide."

But otherwise you have perfect liberty in bolshevik Russia.

FEW BERRIES THIS YEAR

Crop is Short, According to Those
Who Have Made Investigation

With the raspberry season at hand, many local people have been greatly disappointed after making the trip to the south end of Rush county, and Franklin county, is not finding the berries in any great quantity. This part of the county every year draws hundreds of pickers, but there is a scarcity this year.

The intense cultivation of the last two or three seasons has played havoc with many acres of venerable briars and anyway the yield this season of this small but delicious fruit is below the average. As to blackberries, if half the green ones now on the vines develop, there will be a huge yield. Both sorts of berries are now in need of rain.

The regulations effect every grain producer, carrier, dealer and miller in the country. The hearings are to obtain suggestion for alterations.

U.S. SOLDIERS WANT TO MARRY GERMAN GIRLS

More Than 100 Inquiries Were Made by Various Individuals, Including Officers.

RULING TO BE MADE SOON

Coblentz, July 3—The judge advocate's department at army headquarters here was kept busy yesterday with inquiries from various parts of the occupied area as to whether marriages between American soldiers and German girls would be permitted now that the peace treaty has been signed. More than 100 inquiries were made by various individuals, including several officers. These came from the division headquarters of five of the divisions of the 3d army and from various other units, a number of men inquiring personally at headquarters. A ruling on the question will be made in a few days. The order against fraternizing with Germans still is in force, nominally at least, and will continue probably until Germany ratifies the treaty.

MORE RED BLOOD AND STEADIER NERVES FOR RUN DOWN PEOPLE

The World Demands Strong, Vigorous, Keen-Minded Men and Women

It has been said of Americans that they work their habits overtime.

Many become nervous and inefficient by overwork. By worry, despondency, social affairs, robbing brain and body of needed rest; excessive use of tobacco, indulgence in strong alcoholic drink—excesses of every kind that keep up the vital powers so necessary in these trying times to make both men and women fit to be of help to themselves and others.

It is time to be temperate in all things. The man or woman with impaired nerves caused by overwork, loss of sleep, the ambition, the endurance and the keenness of mind who are exhausted.

Powerful Pile Remedy Discovered

Has Never Failed to End Most Ob-
stinate Case of Piles in Few Days

For years it has been proved that so-called external remedies applied to or inserted in the rectum cannot cure piles, and at the best can only give temporary relief. Surgical operations also do not remove this cause, but simply the formation.

This wonderful prescription, known as Miro Pile Remedy, is so efficient in the treatment of piles, that even chronic cases of from 20 to 30 years standing with profuse bleeding have been completely cured in from three to ten days. Think of it! Just a few doses of a carefully balanced prescription and the most persistent case of piles is absorbed, never to return.

All pharmacists dispense Miro or can get it for you on short notice. Surely it's worth the little trouble to obtain it to be rid of piles forever.

IMPORTANT—What is known as itching piles are not piles in the true sense of the word, although this condition may accompany a true case of piles. For this condition Miro Pile Ointment has been prepared as in such cases it is not necessary to take the internal prescription.—(Adv.)

American Army Captain Gets Credit
for the Famous Reply, "Retreat? Hell, No."

AWARDED DISTINGUISH CROSS

Was Ordered to Withdraw His
Troops But Held Them Against
The Germans

(By United Press.)

Washington, July 2.—"Retreat? Hell, no!"

This famous American reply to a French order when Americans moved into the Chateau-Thierry sector for their test of fire, has at last been very clearly traced to a Marine captain.

It was stated authoritatively today that the emphatic Yank answer, attributed for months to Gen. Omar Bundy, 2nd Division commander at Chateau-Thierry, despite his repeated denial, came from Capt. Lloyd M. Williams, 51st Company, 5th Marines.

Six days later, Captain Williams, gassed and torn by shrapnel, died as he was placed in an ambulance.

A French division exhausted by days of desperate fighting against the relentless German advance, was withdrawing down shell-torn roads around Chateau-Thierry, past the relieving 2nd Division.

Captain Williams's company of the 2nd, half doughboys and half Marines, with a sprinkling of Navy medical men was awaiting the withdrawal of the French. They were taking for the first time the front-line positions which Americans were to hold against the pick of the German shock troops.

A French major, moving with his battalion along the dark road and believing a general withdrawal had been ordered, told Williams to follow.

"Retreat?" the American asked. "Hell, no!"

Williams reported the incident to his battalion commander, Colonel (then major) F. W. Wise. The message, according to officers who said they saw it, was:

"French drawing back through us, French major ordered me to withdraw with him. I told him to go to hell."

"WILLIAMS, C. O."

The company, with the rest of the 2nd, completed their relief and formed a line the Germans never broke. Captain Williams was killed six days later—June 12, 1918. Gassed and wounded by shrapnel, he was carried to the rear by four German prisoners. On the way back, a shell struck nearby. Two of the stretcher-bearers were killed and Captain Williams was thrown to the ground. He lived, however, until he was placed in an ambulance.

A distinguished service cross for extraordinary heroism was sent later to his home at Berryville, Va., where he had lived before he graduated from Virginia Polytechnic Institute. Since 1910, when he entered the Marines, he had made his home at Washington.

Though every hour of the following four weeks was filled with excitement, officers and men who heard of or saw the incident remembered it and repeated it. Then it followed the usual course of stories.

First the saying was attributed to the battalion commander, Colonel Wise; then to General (then colonel) W. C. Neville, commanding the 5th Marines; then to Gen. James G. Harbord, commanding the Marine Brigade of the 2nd Division, and finally to General Bundy, division commander, according to officers.

General Bundy now, in command of Camp Lee, Va., when interviewed at Camp Lee by a United Press correspondent, denied emphatically he had made the statement. He refused to discuss the incident for publication.

Officers of the 2nd Division declared flatly that Williams made the statement, and that passed along by word of mouth; its authorship had been credited to increasingly higher officers.

The message was a part of the records of the 2nd Battalion, 5th

Marines—now a part of the army of occupation—was stated. The fact that it did not come to light before was because few men knew of it, and they, in the exciting months that followed, were unable to stop the international publicity given it, it was said.

The Wisconsin Agricultural College, Veterinary Department, in Poster Bulletin No. 3, July 1914, says: "Serum will not give good results if worms, indigestion and other diseases are present." This tells you that when your hogs are vaccinated, that you need Acme Worm Bouncer just the same, in fact more, for you have spent on your hogs 50 to 75 cents per head more than the man who has not vaccinated.
